

Stakeholder engagement - Ed is an innovative thinker and added tremendous value to Merck's Global Constituency Group initiative. He skillfully sought to define gaps and barriers in Merck's efforts to improve the alignment of its workforce with key external stakeholders, and, proposed a standard of measurement that enabled teams to seek innovative solutions to these barriers. He is a great team player and motivator. I recommend Ed without reservation.